

The HP digital solution for all your publishing needs

Go for new heights for the publishing of your books, journals, magazines, catalogs and technical manuals with the HP Inkjet Web Presses. Choose from HP's broad solution portfolio of Inkjet Web Presses, from the T200 for versatile full-color prints, to the T300 for a high-speed, high-quality digital performance, to exceptional print speeds and enhanced throughput with the T350 or for an unprecedented versatility and productivity with the T400.

Opt for a higher productivity, less cost and an outstanding print quality at high speeds thanks to the HP T350 Color Inkjet Web Press; with the first HP T350 having been installed beginning of the year in Europe, the Web press stands for a smart investment.

Offering exceptional color speeds up to 600 feet (183 meters) per minute and a flexible, scalable web width up to 30 inches, the T350 can boost your productivity; let you meet deadlines and fast turnarounds for high-volume jobs.

Fitted with the HP smart Stream Ultra Print Server providing a reliable, consistent, high-quality processing for 100% variable content printing at full press speed.

Produce durable sharp text, images, graphics and uniform area fills at full press speed on a broad range of media including low-cost, uncoated offset media, groundwood and newsprint.

Enjoy a low-maintenance performance and cost-effective, through its long-life HP Thermal inkjet printheads and ink supplies.

Optimize your press uptime with the T350 proven HP Scalable Printing Technology – multiple nozzles address each pixel to minimize print defects and reduce waste.
